GM Seleta Reynolds, Assistant General Managers Dan Mitchell and Jay Kim with honorees.

Honoring Decades of Service

General Manager Seleta Reynolds along with members of the Executive Team, recognized employees from Administration and Field Services, Mobility Management, Project Delivery and Operations, ranging from 25-45 years of service to the City of Los Angeles. LADOT Management applauded their dedication, experience, and mentorship of the younger LADOT generation. Employees with more than 30 years of service received service pins at the Transportation Commission meeting. Congratulations and LADOT thanks you for your many years of service!

Ribbon Cutting in the West Valley

Last Thursday, LADOT staff joined BOE and Councilmember Bob Blumenfield in a ribbon cutting ceremony for Phase I improvements to Victory Boulevard, between Owensmouth Ave and Canoga Ave. The project was designed to improve transportation in and around the Warner Center. The city team constructed new curb and gutter, installed new catch basins, planted new trees, upgraded signals, installed new street lights, added a through-traffic lane, and added two dedicated left turn lanes. Instrumental in the design and completion of this project was the LADOT staff of Senior Engineer Carlos Rios, Supervisor Michael Hunt, Project Managers Sunil Rajpal and Uy Tran, Designer/Construction Manager Tony Ho, and Drafting Tech Iwan Winarto. Phase II design has been completed and the city is in the process of acquiring the right-of-way to build the project, scheduled to begin in mid-2019.

Celebrating a Year of Hard Work!

On Monday, LADOT's executive team hosted a hot chocolate and donut breakfast to celebrate the end of the year.

They also delivered boxes of donuts to LADOT's various satellite locations throughout the City to show their appreciation for a 2017 full of hard work!

Wishing You Happy Holidays

LADOT wishes you and your families a safe and happy holiday season. The Weekly Brief will resume on January 10, 2018. We will see you next year!
